About CoopeTarrazú

CoopeTarrazú is a cooperative in the Tarrazú canton of the Los Santos Coffee Region. This year, the cooperative celebrates a sixty year-history and tradition of coffee production in Costa Rica. It has more than 5,000 members and associate members, who process and sell coffee, as well as provide services that assist in improving the well-being and development of the zone, in a supportive and sustainable manner, thereby improving the standard of living of members, their families and communities.

Technology/Application

Incorporation of digital tools for real time monitoring. To this end, the cooperative has been using ARCGIS, a geographic information system utilizing data compiled by technical officers in the field and individuals who are in charge of production processes.

Features of the inclusive technology solution

- Data for the required fair trade certification audits.
- Member and associate member data.
- Photographs of farms and GPS locations.
- In-field calculations.
- Soil data.
- All of the coffee mills also collect real-time data on temperature, depulping, cupping and soil profile testing.
